UPCOMING EVENTS FOR OCTOBER 2016

Convictions - Part 2

This being the case, we need to ask, are convictions a biblical concept? I think they are—at least, in the way we commonly use the word. If we use it correctly, we use it to describe the work of our conscience in making personal decisions of right and wrong in areas not specifically detailed in scripture. A conviction is a convinced conscience.

Please note that a conviction is not needed where the Bible is specific in its command. We need only to obey in those areas. Perhaps we need to be convicted of our disobedience. But we do not need to have a conviction about it. A conviction is only needed in those areas where biblical precepts (by definition, general principles) need to be applied to particular circumstances. Does God teach us to do this? Yes. Notice the following teaching from God's word:

1. We are to use our spiritual discernment to judge all things (1 Corinthians 2:14-15).
2. As to certain practices, Paul said, "Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind" (Romans 14:5).
3. John speaks of doing those things in which our heart condemns us not (1 John 3:20-21). Evidently, there are also things in which our heart does condemn us.
4. We are to prove all things and hold fast to that which is good (1 Thessalonians 5:21).
5. We are to use wisdom and judgment to approve things that are excellent (Philippians 1:9-10).
6. We are to make certain that we condemn not ourselves in the things which we allow (Romans 14:22-23).
7. We are to use the Bible to such an extent that we are able to discern both good and evil (Hebrews 5:14).

Paul exalted the use of the conscience as a guide in daily practice. He said: "And herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men" (Acts 24:16).

This segment will be continued on the next edition.

God bless
